Honor Code for Safety

Moore College of Art & Design seeks to ensure the safest environment possible for the welfare of the entire community. Given the unprecedented circumstances brought on by COVID-19, the College has and will continue to invest a significant amount of resources in order to maintain a clean and safe learning and residential environment for students during the Fall 2020 semester, following up-to-date recommendations and guidelines from the CDC, the Pennsylvania Department of Health and City of Philadelphia Department of Public Health. We have made changes in order to maintain the wellbeing of all community members, and we ask that our students, faculty and staff do the same by signing this Honor Code prior to their return or welcome to our campus this fall.

Therefore, as a member of the Moore community, I recognize the importance of the guidelines listed below and will adhere to the following:

I understand that these guidelines may change based on evolving guidance from federal, state and local authorities, and I agree to follow new guidelines as they are developed. I acknowledge that I have read all of the above and will adhere to this Honor Code for Safety in an effort to maintain the safety of the Moore College of Art & Design community.
